

Focus on Student Behavior

Learning outcomes are about what students are able to demonstrate upon completion of a course or a span of courses or a program. Learning outcomes are not about what the instructors can provide but what the students can demonstrate.

The following are not learning outcomes:

- ✘ Offer opportunities for students to master integrated use of information technology.
- ✘ The program will engage a significant number of students in a formalized language/cultural studies program.
- ✘ Students who participate in critical writing seminars will write two essays on critical thinking skills.
- ✘ Students will be exposed to exceptionality in learning disabilities including visual and perception disabilities.
